

✳ Error Identification (Spotting Error)

(1) Infinitive vs Gerund Construction:

1. Identify the error in the given sentence: A sustained engagement with literary texts allows the researcher examining apparently insignificant details, to uncover patterns that might otherwise remain concealed beneath the surface of the narrative.

1. to uncover patterns that might otherwise remain concealed
2. beneath the surface of the narrative
3. allows the researcher examining apparently insignificant details
4. A sustained engagement with literary texts

2. Identify the error in the given sentence: The comparative study of linguistic structures enables a researcher tracing recurrent patterns across different translations, to distinguish between variations arising from stylistic preference and those resulting from fundamental differences in interpretation.

1. and those resulting from fundamental differences in interpretation
2. The comparative study of linguistic structures
3. to distinguish between variations arising from stylistic preference
4. enables a researcher tracing recurrent patterns across different translations

3. Identify the error in the given sentence: The use of satellite imagery enables environmental scientists monitoring rapidly changing ecosystems, to identify patterns of deforestation that would otherwise remain difficult to detect.

1. enables environmental scientists monitoring rapidly changing ecosystems
2. that would otherwise remain difficult to detect
3. The use of satellite imagery
4. to identify patterns of deforestation

4. Identify the error in the given sentence: To avoid to compromise the accuracy of the findings, the researchers repeated the experiment under precisely controlled conditions before publishing their conclusions.

1. the researchers repeated the experiment
2. before publishing their conclusions
3. under precisely controlled conditions
4. To avoid to compromise the accuracy of the findings

5. Identify the error in the given sentence: The newly appointed director, while acknowledging the limitations of the existing framework, is looking forward to introduce a series of measures aimed at enhancing institutional efficiency without compromising the autonomy of individual departments.

1. aimed at enhancing institutional efficiency
2. without compromising the autonomy of individual departments
3. is looking forward to introduce a series of measures
4. The newly appointed director, while acknowledging the limitations of the existing framework

6. Identify the error in the given sentence: The unexpected findings made the investigators to reconsider several assumptions that had previously appeared to provide a satisfactory explanation for the observed phenomenon.

1. a satisfactory explanation for the observed phenomenon
2. The unexpected findings
3. made the investigators to reconsider several assumptions
4. that had previously appeared to provide

7. Identify the error in the given sentence: The director had the technical team to examine the equipment once again before authorising the installation of the newly developed system.

1. before authorising the installation
2. The director had the technical team
3. of the newly developed system
4. to examine the equipment once again

8. Identify the error in the given sentence: A careful analysis of consumer behaviour allows economists studying fluctuations in purchasing patterns, to determine whether apparently temporary changes reflect broader transformations in market preferences.

1. A careful analysis of consumer behaviour
2. allows economists studying fluctuations in purchasing patterns
3. reflect broader transformations in market preferences
4. to determine whether apparently temporary changes

9. Identify the error in the given sentence: The integration of digital assessment tools enables teachers identifying persistent weaknesses in students' performance, to modify instructional strategies before such deficiencies become deeply entrenched.

1. before such deficiencies become deeply entrenched
2. to modify instructional strategies
3. The integration of digital assessment tools
4. enables teachers identifying persistent weaknesses in students' performance

10. Identify the error in the given sentence: The research team completed the preliminary analysis before proceeding to examine the additional data, which the investigators expected revealing several previously unnoticed patterns.

1. previously unnoticed patterns
2. before proceeding to examine the additional data
3. which the investigators expected revealing several previously unnoticed patterns
4. The research team completed the preliminary analysis

(2) Redundancy / Tautology:

11. Identify the error in the given sentence: The committee was in favour of postponing the decision, since none of the proposed alternatives seemed sufficiently viable to be implemented immediately.

1. The committee was in favour
2. of postponing the decision
3. none of the proposed alternatives seemed sufficiently viable
4. to be implemented immediately

12. Identify the error in the given sentence: Despite having received repeated warnings from the authorities, the factory continued to operate at full capacity, thereby putting thousands of nearby residents in an unnecessary risk.

1. Despite having received repeated warnings
2. from the authorities
3. continued to operate at full capacity
4. in an unnecessary risk

13. Identify the error in the given sentence: The professor insisted that every student submits the revised assignment before the beginning of the next academic session.

1. The professor insisted
2. that every student submits
3. the revised assignment
4. before the beginning of the next academic session

14. Identify the error in the given sentence: Having scarcely finished the presentation when the electricity suddenly went out, the researchers were forced to abandon the demonstration.

1. Having scarcely finished the presentation
2. when the electricity suddenly went out
3. the researchers were forced
4. to abandon the demonstration

15. Identify the error in the given sentence: The findings of the investigation are considerably different than those reported by the independent committee established earlier this year.

1. The findings of the investigation
2. are considerably different
3. than those reported by the independent committee
4. established earlier this year

16. Identify the error in the given sentence: No sooner had the negotiations begun than both parties started accusing one another for deliberately concealing crucial information.

1. No sooner had the negotiations begun
2. than both parties started

3. accusing one another for deliberately concealing
4. crucial information

17. Identify the error in the given sentence: The report not only questions the reliability of the available data but also raises serious doubts concerning whether the conclusions drawn from it is justified.

1. The report not only questions
2. the reliability of the available data
3. but also raises serious doubts
4. whether the conclusions drawn from it is justified

18. Identify the error in the given sentence: The scientist denied to have manipulated the experimental results, despite several discrepancies having been discovered during the subsequent investigation.

1. The scientist denied
2. to have manipulated the experimental results
3. despite several discrepancies having been discovered
4. during the subsequent investigation

19. Identify the error in the given sentence: The manager would rather the employees to work overtime than risk missing the deadline imposed by the client.

1. The manager would rather
2. the employees to work overtime
3. than risk missing the deadline
4. imposed by the client

20. Identify the error in the given sentence: It is high time that the authorities take immediate measures to address the increasingly deteriorating condition of the public transport system.

1. It is high time
2. that the authorities take immediate measures
3. to address the increasingly deteriorating condition
4. of the public transport system

(3) Prepositional Usage & Time Expressions:

21. Identify the error in the sentence:

The committee has been working on the proposal since the last three months, but no consensus has yet been reached among its members.

1. Since the last three months
2. Has been working on the proposal
3. But no consensus has yet been reached
4. Among its members

22. Identify the error in the sentence: She had been living in the city since five years before she finally decided to move to a quieter suburb.

1. Since five years
2. Before she finally decided
3. To move to a quieter suburb
4. Had been living in the city

23. Identify the error in the sentence: The researchers have been observing the phenomenon from early January, when the first unusual pattern was detected in the experimental data.

1. Have been observing the phenomenon
2. From early January
3. When the first unusual pattern was detected
4. In the experimental data

24. Identify the error in the sentence: The negotiations continued until late into the night, despite several delegates having expressed their intention to withdraw from the discussion.

1. The negotiations continued
2. Despite several delegates having expressed
3. Until late into the night
4. Their intention to withdraw from the discussion

25. Identify the error in the sentence: I have not spoken to the department head from Monday, although I have sent him several messages regarding the matter.

1. I have not spoken to the department head
2. Although I have sent him several messages
3. From Monday
4. Regarding the matter

26. Identify the error in the sentence: The museum will remain closed during next Monday because essential conservation work is scheduled to be carried out throughout the day.

1. The museum will remain closed
2. During next Monday
3. Essential conservation work is scheduled
4. Throughout the day

27. Identify the error in the sentence: The witness claimed that he had remained at the railway station by nearly two hours before the police finally arrived at the scene.

1. The witness claimed
2. Had remained at the railway station
3. Before the police finally arrived
4. By nearly two hours

28. Identify the error in the sentence: The professor has been associated with the institution for the beginning of the academic session, and several generations of students have benefited from his guidance.

1. For the beginning of the academic session
2. Several generations of students
3. Have benefited from his guidance
4. Has been associated with the institution

29. Identify the error in the sentence: The company had been facing financial difficulties since several months before the new management introduced a comprehensive restructuring plan.

1. Had been facing financial difficulties
2. Before the new management introduced
3. Since several months
4. A comprehensive restructuring plan

30. Identify the error in the sentence: The conference is scheduled to continue for three consecutive days, beginning on Wednesday and concluding late on Friday evening.

1. The conference is scheduled to continue
2. Beginning on Wednesday
3. Concluding late on Friday evening
4. For three consecutive days

(4) Correlative Conjunction Agreement:

31. Identify the error in the sentence: The revised policy is not only intended to reduce administrative delays but also aims at improving transparency in the decision-making process.

1. The revised policy is
2. not only intended to reduce administrative delays
3. but also aims at improving
4. transparency in the decision-making process

32. Identify the error in the sentence: Either the principal or the senior members of the faculty is expected to address the concerns raised by the students before the commencement of the new semester.

1. Either the principal
2. or the senior members of the faculty is expected to address
3. the concerns raised by the students
4. before the commencement of the new semester

33. Identify the error in the sentence: The revised regulations require candidates either to submit the original documents personally or having them authenticated by a gazetted officer.

1. The revised regulations require candidates
2. either to submit the original documents personally
3. or having them authenticated
4. by a gazetted officer

34. Identify the error in the sentence: The new curriculum is designed not merely to expand students' theoretical knowledge but also developing their ability to apply concepts in unfamiliar situations.

1. The new curriculum is designed
2. not merely to expand students' theoretical knowledge
3. but also developing their ability
4. to apply concepts in unfamiliar situations

35. Identify the error in the sentence: Neither the evidence presented by the prosecution nor the testimony of the principal witnesses were sufficient to establish the sequence of events beyond reasonable doubt.

1. Neither the evidence presented by the prosecution
2. nor the testimony of the principal witnesses were sufficient
3. to establish the sequence of events
4. beyond reasonable doubt

36. Identify the error in the sentence: The research findings suggest that both environmental degradation as well as rapid urbanisation have contributed substantially to the decline in groundwater levels.

1. The research findings suggest
2. that both environmental degradation
3. as well as rapid urbanisation
4. have contributed substantially to the decline in groundwater levels

37. Identify the error in the sentence: The institution will provide either financial assistance to students who demonstrate exceptional need or arranging flexible payment schedules for those facing temporary difficulties.

1. The institution will provide
2. either financial assistance to students who demonstrate exceptional need
3. or arranging flexible payment schedules
4. for those facing temporary difficulties

38. Identify the error in the sentence: Not only the revised methodology but also the additional variables introduced during the second phase has significantly altered the final outcome of the experiment.

1. Not only the revised methodology
2. but also the additional variables introduced during the second phase
3. has significantly altered
4. the final outcome of the experiment

39. Identify the error in the sentence: The committee's decision was neither based on political considerations nor did it reflect any intention to favour one group over another.

1. The committee's decision was
2. neither based on political considerations
3. any intention to favour one group over another
4. None

40. Identify the error in the sentence: The proposed scheme will benefit not only those students who are already proficient but also to struggle with professional communication.

1. The proposed scheme will benefit
2. not only those students who are already proficient in English
3. but also to struggling to communicate effectively
4. in professional settings

(5) Reason-Because Clause Redundancy:

41. Identify the error in the sentence: The fundamental reason for the discrepancy is because the data were collected under substantially different conditions.

1. The fundamental reason for the discrepancy
2. is because the data were collected
3. under substantially different conditions
4. The data were collected under substantially different conditions

42. Identify the error in the sentence: The reason why the negotiations failed was due to the inability of both parties to agree on the revised terms.

1. The reason why the negotiations failed
2. was due to the inability
3. of both parties to agree
4. on the revised terms

43. Identify the error in the sentence: The primary reason why the experiment was repeated was because several variables had not been adequately controlled during the initial trial.

1. The primary reason
2. why the experiment was repeated
3. was because several variables had not been adequately controlled
4. during the initial trial

44. Identify the error in the sentence: The principal reason for postponing the conference was because several international delegates had been unable to secure their travel arrangements in time.

1. The principal reason for postponing the conference
2. was because several international delegates
3. had been unable to secure
4. their travel arrangements in time

45. Identify the error in the sentence: The reason for the abrupt decline in productivity was because the organisation had introduced several overlapping procedures without adequately training its employees.

1. The reason for the abrupt decline in productivity
2. was because the organisation had introduced several overlapping procedures
3. without adequately training
4. its employees

46. Identify the error in the sentence: The committee decided to return back the documents to the HR department.

1. The committee decided
2. to return back
3. the documents to
4. the HR department

47. Identify the error in the sentence: One of the main reasons for the decline in attendance was because the revised schedule conflicted with several other academic activities.

1. One of the main reasons for the decline in attendance
2. was because the revised schedule
3. conflicted with several other academic activities
4. the revised schedule conflicted with several other academic activities

48. Identify the error in the sentence: The main reason why the team lost the final match was because the key player was injured during the second half.

1. The main reason why the team
2. lost the final match
3. was because the key player
4. was injured during the second half

49. Identify the error in the sentence: The underlying reason for the disagreement was not because the two departments lacked resources but because their priorities had gradually diverged.

1. The underlying reason for the disagreement
2. was not because the two departments lacked resources
3. but because their priorities had gradually diverged
4. their priorities had gradually diverged

50. Identify the error in the sentence: The main reason behind the sudden resignation was due to growing differences between the board and the executive committee.

1. The main reason behind the sudden resignation
2. was due to growing differences
3. between the board and the executive committee
4. the executive committee

(6) Verb Choice Confusion:

51. Identify the error in the sentence: The research assistant borrowed his supervisor a reference book that was unavailable in the university library.

1. The research assistant
2. borrowed his supervisor a reference book
3. that was unavailable
4. in the university library

52. Identify the error in the sentence: The committee discussed about the implications of the proposed amendment before forwarding its recommendations to the governing body.

1. The committee
2. discussed about the implications of the proposed amendment
3. before forwarding its recommendations
4. to the governing body

53. Identify the error in the sentence: The new evidence comprises of several documents that had previously been excluded from the official investigation.

1. The new evidence
2. comprises of several documents
3. that had previously been excluded
4. from the official investigation

54. Identify the error in the sentence: The university has decided to implement a new policy aimed at preventing students to misuse institutional resources.

1. The university has decided
2. to implement a new policy
3. aimed at preventing students to misuse
4. institutional resources

55. Identify the error in the sentence: The spokesperson denied the allegations but refused commenting on the specific evidence presented during the inquiry.

1. The spokesperson denied the allegations
2. but refused commenting on the specific evidence
3. presented during the inquiry
4. The specific evidence presented during the inquiry

56. Identify the error in the sentence: The new policy aims at reduce unnecessary expenditure without affecting the quality of essential public services.

1. The new policy
2. aims at reduce unnecessary expenditure
3. without affecting
4. the quality of essential public services

57. Identify the error in the sentence: The senior officer suggested the committee to reconsider its decision before issuing the final notification.

1. The senior officer
2. suggested the committee to reconsider its decision
3. before issuing
4. the final notification

58. Identify the error in the sentence: The investigators succeeded to identify the source of contamination only after examining samples collected from several locations.

1. The investigators
2. succeeded to identify the source of contamination
3. only after examining samples
4. collected from several locations

59. Identify the error in the sentence: The revised guidelines emphasise on the importance of documenting every stage of the experimental procedure.

1. The revised guidelines
2. emphasise on the importance of documenting every stage
3. of the experimental procedure
4. every stage of the experimental procedure

60. Identify the error in the sentence: The director appreciated the research team for completing the project ahead of schedule despite of several unexpected difficulties.

1. The director
2. appreciated the research team for completing the project
3. ahead of schedule
4. despite of several unexpected difficulties

(7) Tense Consistency:

61. Identify the error in the sentence: The investigators have completed the preliminary analysis before the committee requested additional evidence to support the findings.

1. The investigators have completed
2. the preliminary analysis
3. before the committee requested
4. additional evidence to support the findings

62. Identify the error in the sentence: By the time the emergency team arrived at the site, the workers already evacuated the building and moved to a designated safety zone.

1. By the time the emergency team arrived
2. at the site
3. the workers already evacuated the building
4. and moved to a designated safety zone

63. Identify the error in the sentence: The researcher had been working on the project for nearly two years when she discovers a methodological flaw that required the entire analysis to be reconsidered.

1. The researcher had been working on the project
2. for nearly two years
3. when she discovers
4. a methodological flaw that required the entire analysis to be reconsidered

64. Identify the error in the sentence: The company has announced the revised policy last week, although several departments had already begun preparing for its implementation.

1. The company has announced
2. the revised policy last week
3. although several departments had already begun
4. preparing for its implementation

65. Identify the error in the sentence: When the auditors examined the records, they discovered that the accounts had been altered after the previous inspection takes place.

1. When the auditors examined the records
2. they discovered that the accounts
3. had been altered after the previous inspection
4. takes place

66. Identify the error in the sentence: The minister stated that the government will have completed the rehabilitation project by the end of the previous financial year.

1. The minister stated
2. that the government
3. will have completed the rehabilitation project
4. by the end of the previous financial year

67. Identify the error in the sentence: The students had submitted their assignments before the professor announces that the deadline would be extended by another week.

1. The students had submitted their assignments
2. before the professor announces
3. that the deadline would be extended
4. by another week

68. Identify the error in the sentence: The laboratory has been conducting the trial since January, but the researchers reported that several technical difficulties had emerged during the initial phase.

1. The laboratory has been conducting the trial
2. since January
3. but the researchers reported
4. that several technical difficulties had emerged during the initial phase

69. Identify the error in the sentence: By the time the new regulations came into effect, several institutions have already modified their internal procedures to comply with the revised requirements.

1. By the time the new regulations came into effect
2. several institutions have already modified
3. their internal procedures
4. to comply with the revised requirements

70. Identify the error in the sentence: The director explained that the department is facing difficulties because several experienced employees had resigned.

1. The director explained that
2. the department is facing difficulties
3. because several experienced employees
4. had resigned

✱ Error Identification (Spotting Error)

(1) Infinitive vs Gerund Construction:

1. Identify the error in the given sentence: A sustained engagement with literary texts allows the researcher examining apparently insignificant details, to uncover patterns that might otherwise remain concealed beneath the surface of the narrative.

1. to uncover patterns that might otherwise remain concealed
2. beneath the surface of the narrative
- 3. allows the researcher examining apparently insignificant details
4. A sustained engagement with literary texts

2. Identify the error in the given sentence: The comparative study of linguistic structures enables a researcher tracing recurrent patterns across different translations, to distinguish between variations arising from stylistic preference and those resulting from fundamental differences in interpretation.

1. and those resulting from fundamental differences in interpretation
2. The comparative study of linguistic structures
3. to distinguish between variations arising from stylistic preference
- 4. enables a researcher tracing recurrent patterns across different translations

3. Identify the error in the given sentence: The use of satellite imagery enables environmental scientists monitoring rapidly changing ecosystems, to identify patterns of deforestation that would otherwise remain difficult to detect.

- 1. enables environmental scientists monitoring rapidly changing ecosystems
2. that would otherwise remain difficult to detect
3. The use of satellite imagery
4. to identify patterns of deforestation

4. Identify the error in the given sentence: To avoid to compromise the accuracy of the findings, the researchers repeated the experiment under precisely controlled conditions before publishing their conclusions.

1. the researchers repeated the experiment
2. before publishing their conclusions
3. under precisely controlled conditions
- 4. To avoid to compromise the accuracy of the findings

5. Identify the error in the given sentence: The newly appointed director, while acknowledging the limitations of the existing framework, is looking forward to introduce a series of measures aimed at enhancing institutional efficiency without compromising the autonomy of individual departments.

1. aimed at enhancing institutional efficiency
2. without compromising the autonomy of individual departments
- 3. is looking forward to introduce a series of measures
4. The newly appointed director, while acknowledging the limitations of the existing framework

6. Identify the error in the given sentence: The unexpected findings made the investigators to reconsider several assumptions that had previously appeared to provide a satisfactory explanation for the observed phenomenon.

1. a satisfactory explanation for the observed phenomenon
2. The unexpected findings
- 3. made the investigators to reconsider several assumptions
4. that had previously appeared to provide

7. Identify the error in the given sentence: The director had the technical team to examine the equipment once again before authorising the installation of the newly developed system.

1. before authorising the installation
2. The director had the technical team
3. of the newly developed system
- 4. to examine the equipment once again

8. Identify the error in the given sentence: A careful analysis of consumer behaviour allows economists studying fluctuations in purchasing patterns, to determine whether apparently temporary changes reflect broader transformations in market preferences.

1. A careful analysis of consumer behaviour
- 2. allows economists studying fluctuations in purchasing patterns
3. reflect broader transformations in market preferences
4. to determine whether apparently temporary changes

9. Identify the error in the given sentence: The integration of digital assessment tools enables teachers identifying persistent weaknesses in students' performance, to modify instructional strategies before such deficiencies become deeply entrenched.

1. before such deficiencies become deeply entrenched
2. to modify instructional strategies
3. The integration of digital assessment tools
- 4. enables teachers identifying persistent weaknesses in students' performance

10. Identify the error in the given sentence: The research team completed the preliminary analysis before proceeding to examine the additional data, which the investigators expected revealing several previously unnoticed patterns.

1. previously unnoticed patterns
2. before proceeding to examine the additional data
- 3. which the investigators expected revealing several previously unnoticed patterns
4. The research team completed the preliminary analysis

(2) Redundancy / Tautology:

11. Identify the error in the given sentence: The committee was in favour of postponing the decision, since none of the proposed alternatives seemed sufficiently viable to be implemented immediately.

1. The committee was in favour
2. of postponing the decision
- 3. none of the proposed alternatives seemed sufficiently viable
4. to be implemented immediately

12. Identify the error in the given sentence: Despite having received repeated warnings from the authorities, the factory continued to operate at full capacity, thereby putting thousands of nearby residents in an unnecessary risk.

1. Despite having received repeated warnings
2. from the authorities
3. continued to operate at full capacity
- 4. in an unnecessary risk

13. Identify the error in the given sentence: The professor insisted that every student submits the revised assignment before the beginning of the next academic session.

1. The professor insisted
- 2. that every student submits
3. the revised assignment
4. before the beginning of the next academic session

14. Identify the error in the given sentence: Having scarcely finished the presentation when the electricity suddenly went out, the researchers were forced to abandon the demonstration.

- 1. Having scarcely finished the presentation
2. when the electricity suddenly went out
3. the researchers were forced
4. to abandon the demonstration

15. Identify the error in the given sentence: The findings of the investigation are considerably different than those reported by the independent committee established earlier this year.

1. The findings of the investigation
2. are considerably different
- 3. than those reported by the independent committee
4. established earlier this year

16. Identify the error in the given sentence: No sooner had the negotiations begun than both parties started accusing one another for deliberately concealing crucial information.

1. No sooner had the negotiations begun
- 2. than both parties started

3. accusing one another for deliberately concealing
4. crucial information

17. Identify the error in the given sentence: The report not only questions the reliability of the available data but also raises serious doubts concerning whether the conclusions drawn from it is justified.

1. The report not only questions
2. the reliability of the available data
3. but also raises serious doubts
4. whether the conclusions drawn from it is justified

18. Identify the error in the given sentence: The scientist denied to have manipulated the experimental results, despite several discrepancies having been discovered during the subsequent investigation.

1. The scientist denied
2. to have manipulated the experimental results
3. despite several discrepancies having been discovered
4. during the subsequent investigation

19. Identify the error in the given sentence: The manager would rather the employees to work overtime than risk missing the deadline imposed by the client.

1. The manager would rather
2. the employees to work overtime
3. than risk missing the deadline
4. imposed by the client

20. Identify the error in the given sentence: It is high time that the authorities take immediate measures to address the increasingly deteriorating condition of the public transport system.

1. It is high time
2. that the authorities take immediate measures
3. to address the increasingly deteriorating condition
4. of the public transport system

(3) Prepositional Usage & Time Expressions:

21. Identify the error in the sentence:

The committee has been working on the proposal since the last three months, but no consensus has yet been reached among its members.

1. Since the last three months
2. Has been working on the proposal
3. But no consensus has yet been reached
4. Among its members

22. Identify the error in the sentence: She had been living in the city since five years before she finally decided to move to a quieter suburb.

1. Since five years
2. Before she finally decided
3. To move to a quieter suburb
4. Had been living in the city

23. Identify the error in the sentence: The researchers have been observing the phenomenon from early January, when the first unusual pattern was detected in the experimental data.

1. Have been observing the phenomenon
2. From early January
3. When the first unusual pattern was detected
4. In the experimental data

24. Identify the error in the sentence: The negotiations continued until late into the night, despite several delegates having expressed their intention to withdraw from the discussion.

1. The negotiations continued
2. Despite several delegates having expressed
3. Until late into the night
4. Their intention to withdraw from the discussion

25. Identify the error in the sentence: I have not spoken to the department head from Monday, although I have sent him several messages regarding the matter.

1. I have not spoken to the department head
2. Although I have sent him several messages
3. From Monday
4. Regarding the matter

26. Identify the error in the sentence: The museum will remain closed during next Monday because essential conservation work is scheduled to be carried out throughout the day.

1. The museum will remain closed
2. During next Monday
3. Essential conservation work is scheduled
4. Throughout the day

27. Identify the error in the sentence: The witness claimed that he had remained at the railway station by nearly two hours before the police finally arrived at the scene.

1. The witness claimed
2. Had remained at the railway station
3. Before the police finally arrived
4. By nearly two hours

28. Identify the error in the sentence: The professor has been associated with the institution for the beginning of the academic session, and several generations of students have benefited from his guidance.

1. For the beginning of the academic session
2. Several generations of students
3. Have benefited from his guidance
4. Has been associated with the institution

29. Identify the error in the sentence: The company had been facing financial difficulties since several months before the new management introduced a comprehensive restructuring plan.

1. Had been facing financial difficulties
2. Before the new management introduced
3. Since several months
4. A comprehensive restructuring plan

30. Identify the error in the sentence: The conference is scheduled to continue for three consecutive days, beginning on Wednesday and concluding late on Friday evening.

1. The conference is scheduled to continue
2. Beginning on Wednesday
3. Concluding late on Friday evening
4. For three consecutive days

(4) Correlative Conjunction Agreement:

31. Identify the error in the sentence: The revised policy is not only intended to reduce administrative delays but also aims at improving transparency in the decision-making process.

1. The revised policy is
2. not only intended to reduce administrative delays
3. but also aims at improving
4. transparency in the decision-making process

32. Identify the error in the sentence: Either the principal or the senior members of the faculty is expected to address the concerns raised by the students before the commencement of the new semester.

1. Either the principal
2. or the senior members of the faculty is expected to address
3. the concerns raised by the students
4. before the commencement of the new semester

33. Identify the error in the sentence: The revised regulations require candidates either to submit the original documents personally or having them authenticated by a gazetted officer.

1. The revised regulations require candidates
2. either to submit the original documents personally
- 3. or having them authenticated
4. by a gazetted officer

34. Identify the error in the sentence: The new curriculum is designed not merely to expand students' theoretical knowledge but also developing their ability to apply concepts in unfamiliar situations.

1. The new curriculum is designed
2. not merely to expand students' theoretical knowledge
- 3. but also developing their ability
4. to apply concepts in unfamiliar situations

35. Identify the error in the sentence: Neither the evidence presented by the prosecution nor the testimony of the principal witnesses were sufficient to establish the sequence of events beyond reasonable doubt.

1. Neither the evidence presented by the prosecution
- 2. nor the testimony of the principal witnesses were sufficient
3. to establish the sequence of events
4. beyond reasonable doubt

36. Identify the error in the sentence: The research findings suggest that both environmental degradation as well as rapid urbanisation have contributed substantially to the decline in groundwater levels.

1. The research findings suggest
2. that both environmental degradation
- 3. as well as rapid urbanisation
4. have contributed substantially to the decline in groundwater levels

37. Identify the error in the sentence: The institution will provide either financial assistance to students who demonstrate exceptional need or arranging flexible payment schedules for those facing temporary difficulties.

1. The institution will provide
2. either financial assistance to students who demonstrate exceptional need
- 3. or arranging flexible payment schedules
4. for those facing temporary difficulties

38. Identify the error in the sentence: Not only the revised methodology but also the additional variables introduced during the second phase has significantly altered the final outcome of the experiment.

1. Not only the revised methodology
2. but also the additional variables introduced during the second phase
- 3. has significantly altered
4. the final outcome of the experiment

39. Identify the error in the sentence: The committee's decision was neither based on political considerations nor did it reflect any intention to favour one group over another.

1. The committee's decision was
- 2. neither based on political considerations
3. any intention to favour one group over another
4. None

40. Identify the error in the sentence: The proposed scheme will benefit not only those students who are already proficient but also to struggle with professional communication.

1. The proposed scheme will benefit
2. not only those students who are already proficient in English
- 3. but also to struggling to communicate effectively
4. in professional settings

(5) Reason-Because Clause Redundancy:

41. Identify the error in the sentence: The fundamental reason for the discrepancy is because the data were collected under substantially different conditions.

1. The fundamental reason for the discrepancy
- 2. is because the data were collected
3. under substantially different conditions
4. The data were collected under substantially different conditions

42. Identify the error in the sentence: The reason why the negotiations failed was due to the inability of both parties to agree on the revised terms.

1. The reason why the negotiations failed
- 2. was due to the inability
3. of both parties to agree
4. on the revised terms

43. Identify the error in the sentence: The primary reason why the experiment was repeated was because several variables had not been adequately controlled during the initial trial.

1. The primary reason
2. why the experiment was repeated
- 3. was because several variables had not been adequately controlled
4. during the initial trial

44. Identify the error in the sentence: The principal reason for postponing the conference was because several international delegates had been unable to secure their travel arrangements in time.

1. The principal reason for postponing the conference
2. was because several international delegates
3. had been unable to secure
4. their travel arrangements in time

45. Identify the error in the sentence: The reason for the abrupt decline in productivity was because the organisation had introduced several overlapping procedures without adequately training its employees.

1. The reason for the abrupt decline in productivity
2. was because the organisation had introduced several overlapping procedures
3. without adequately training
4. its employees

46. Identify the error in the sentence: The committee decided to return back the documents to the HR department.

1. The committee decided
2. to return back
3. the documents to
4. the HR department

47. Identify the error in the sentence: One of the main reasons for the decline in attendance was because the revised schedule conflicted with several other academic activities.

1. One of the main reasons for the decline in attendance
2. was because the revised schedule
3. conflicted with several other academic activities
4. the revised schedule conflicted with several other academic activities

48. Identify the error in the sentence: The main reason why the team lost the final match was because the key player was injured during the second half.

1. The main reason why the team
2. lost the final match
3. was because the key player
4. was injured during the second half

49. Identify the error in the sentence: The underlying reason for the disagreement was not because the two departments lacked resources but because their priorities had gradually diverged.

1. The underlying reason for the disagreement
2. was not because the two departments lacked resources
3. but because their priorities had gradually diverged
4. their priorities had gradually diverged

50. Identify the error in the sentence: The main reason behind the sudden resignation was due to growing differences between the board and the executive committee.

1. The main reason behind the sudden resignation
2. was due to growing differences
3. between the board and the executive committee
4. the executive committee

(5) Verb Choice Confusion:

51. Identify the error in the sentence: The research assistant borrowed his supervisor a reference book that was unavailable in the university library.

1. The research assistant
2. borrowed his supervisor a reference book
3. that was unavailable
4. in the university library

52. Identify the error in the sentence: The committee discussed about the implications of the proposed amendment before forwarding its recommendations to the governing body.

1. The committee
2. discussed about the implications of the proposed amendment
3. before forwarding its recommendations
4. to the governing body

53. Identify the error in the sentence: The new evidence comprises of several documents that had previously been excluded from the official investigation.

1. The new evidence
2. comprises of several documents
3. that had previously been excluded
4. from the official investigation

54. Identify the error in the sentence: The university has decided to implement a new policy aimed at preventing students to misuse institutional resources.

1. The university has decided
2. to implement a new policy
3. aimed at preventing students to misuse
4. institutional resources

55. Identify the error in the sentence: The spokesperson denied the allegations but refused commenting on the specific evidence presented during the inquiry.

1. The spokesperson denied the allegations
2. but refused commenting on the specific evidence
3. presented during the inquiry
4. The specific evidence presented during the inquiry

56. Identify the error in the sentence: The new policy aims at reduce unnecessary expenditure without affecting the quality of essential public services.

1. The new policy
2. aims at reduce unnecessary expenditure
3. without affecting
4. the quality of essential public services

57. Identify the error in the sentence: The senior officer suggested the committee to reconsider its decision before issuing the final notification.

1. The senior officer
2. suggested the committee to reconsider its decision
3. before issuing
4. the final notification

58. Identify the error in the sentence: The investigators succeeded to identify the source of contamination only after examining samples collected from several locations.

1. The investigators
2. succeeded to identify the source of contamination
3. only after examining samples
4. collected from several locations

59. Identify the error in the sentence: The revised guidelines emphasise on the importance of documenting every stage of the experimental procedure.

1. The revised guidelines
2. emphasise on the importance of documenting every stage
3. of the experimental procedure
4. every stage of the experimental procedure

60. Identify the error in the sentence: The director appreciated the research team for completing the project ahead of schedule despite of several unexpected difficulties.

1. The director
2. appreciated the research team for completing the project
3. ahead of schedule
4. despite of several unexpected difficulties

(7) Tense Consistency:

61. Identify the error in the sentence: The investigators have completed the preliminary analysis before the committee requested additional evidence to support the findings.

1. The investigators have completed
2. the preliminary analysis
3. before the committee requested
4. additional evidence to support the findings

62. Identify the error in the sentence: By the time the emergency team arrived at the site, the workers already evacuated the building and moved to a designated safety zone.

1. By the time the emergency team arrived
2. at the site
3. the workers already evacuated the building
4. and moved to a designated safety zone

63. Identify the error in the sentence: The researcher had been working on the project for nearly two years when she discovers a methodological flaw that required the entire analysis to be reconsidered.

1. The researcher had been working on the project
2. for nearly two years
3. when she discovers
4. a methodological flaw that required the entire analysis to be reconsidered

64. Identify the error in the sentence: The company has announced the revised policy last week, although several departments had already begun preparing for its implementation.

1. The company has announced
2. the revised policy last week
3. although several departments had already begun
4. preparing for its implementation

65. Identify the error in the sentence: When the auditors examined the records, they discovered that the accounts had been altered after the previous inspection takes place.

1. When the auditors examined the records
2. they discovered that the accounts
3. had been altered after the previous inspection
4. takes place

66. Identify the error in the sentence: The minister stated that the government will have completed the rehabilitation project by the end of the previous financial year.

1. The minister stated
2. that the government
3. will have completed the rehabilitation project
4. by the end of the previous financial year

67. Identify the error in the sentence: The students had submitted their assignments before the professor announces that the deadline would be extended by another week.

1. The students had submitted their assignments
2. before the professor announces
3. that the deadline would be extended
4. by another week

68. Identify the error in the sentence: The laboratory has been conducting the trial since January, but the researchers reported that several technical difficulties had emerged during the initial phase.

1. The laboratory has been conducting the trial
2. since January
3. but the researchers reported
4. that several technical difficulties had emerged during the initial phase

69. Identify the error in the sentence: By the time the new regulations came into effect, several institutions have already modified their internal procedures to comply with the revised requirements.

1. By the time the new regulations came into effect
2. several institutions have already modified
3. their internal procedures
4. to comply with the revised requirements

70. Identify the error in the sentence: The director explained that the department is facing difficulties because several experienced employees had resigned.

1. The director explained that
2. the department is facing difficulties
3. because several experienced employees
4. had resigned